Hi Ken,

December 15 still works for me and I'm assuming it still works for Jay. But let me double check with the other folks here and I'll get back to you the first of next week.

As to the time, we'll do whatever works best for you, so if a little later than 10:30 would accommodate the commute better then we can do that.

Dave

Hi Dave,

I was checking to see if the proposed December 15th meeting date will still work. I can't remember the exact time we talked about, but around 10:30 would be best for us with the long commute. Please let me know if we can harden up the calendar and schedule it with our consultant.

Thanks --Ken
